It is based on the U.S. Census Bureau's Socioeconomic Status (SES) measure with weights adjusted to more strongly reflect the educational aspect of social status (education 2: 1 to income & occupation). Factors in this measure are income, educational achievement and occupation of persons within the ZIP code. Since this measure is based on the population of an entire ZIP code, it may not reflect the nature of an individual school.

2404. CENTRAL RIDGE RESIDENTIAL DISTRICT (CRR)

This category is designed to protect the rural character of existing large lot subdivisions by prohibiting any increase in residential density beyond the approved final plat or accepted unrecorded subdivision plan.

This district consists of lawful unrecorded and recorded subdivisions located within the Planned Service Area (PSA). Density shall be limited to the maximum provided by the final development order under the approved subdivision plat and any subsequent lot divisions up to the effective date of the established CRR District on the GFLUM. Lot reconfiguration is permitted. Replatting to accomplish clustering and/or development consistent with the current standards is permitted provided the gross density is not increased.

This category, permitted only within the PSA, allows for single family residential development at a density no greater than the density of the existing subdivision. This category may be assigned to only a portion of a subdivision and shall not apply to undivided land.

2409. PROFESSIONAL SERVICES/OFFICE DISTRICT (PSO)

This category represents a limited range of uses. This district contains those areas where professional office development is appropriate as the primary use. This category is representative of a buffer area between commercial and residential development.

Single family residential development may be allowed provided the structure has access to a local residential roadway and is in residentially committed areas, or is associated with a business owned and operated by the homeowner.

Multifamily residential development over four units per acre, not to exceed 10 units per acre, may be allowed subject to density limitations as outlined below. However, such residential development shall be required to preserve at least twenty percent (20%) of the gross site area as permanent open space as required by this LDC. Multi-family apartments built as additional stories over nonresidential structures may be allowed in accordance with the density allowances as described within this Section.

2410. COASTAL AND LAKES COMMERCIAL DISTRICT (CLC)

This category designates those areas suitable for commercial development within the coastal, lakes, and river regions. The commercial uses allowed in this category are water related, water dependent, or necessary for the support of the immediate population. The designation is intended for a single commercial use or business on a single parcel of property. Commercial centers are not allowed, but multiple activities operated by a sole entity are allowed. This requirement is not intended to limit the number of structures as long as the development meets all requirements of this LDC.

Single family residential development shall be allowed only if the structure has access to a local residential roadway and is in a residentially committed area, or is associated with a business owned and operated by the homeowner. In addition to commercial uses, the category allows for a single family residence as an accessory use to the primary commercial use of a lot or parcel. The intent is to allow a business owner or employee to live on-site with his/her family. Such single family dwelling units are allowed on the second floor of a building, or as an attached ground floor unit, or as a detached dwelling unit, preferably to the rear of the property.

Furthermore, CLC designated lands shall not be subdivided for the purpose of increasing residential density beyond the density allowed within the Low Intensity Coastal and Lakes District, that is, one dwelling unit per 20 acres outside of the V-zone and one unit per 40 acres within the V-zone. Existing lots of record smaller than the above standards shall be recognized as valid non-conforming lots.

2500. TYPES OF USES

This section contains a list of allowable uses within each land use district described in the Comprehensive Plan and this LDC. Specific uses are either a) permitted subject to the minimum requirements for development within the district, b) allowable subject to PUD standards for developments of greater intensity than the designated predominant use or conditional uses, or c) prohibited as incompatible with the intent and character of the district.

- A. Residential. This is a broad group of uses, including single family dwellings, accessory apartments, multifamily dwellings, and accessory structures and uses, modular and manufactured housing, but specifically excluding recreational vehicles. While an area may be designated for residential use, it does not follow that any housing type (single family, apartment, townhouse, etc.) is allowed. Certain areas are limited to one or more housing types in order to preserve the established character of the area. In addition, each district that allows residential use has a maximum density under minimum development standards. Some districts allow additional density when a proposed project meets PUD standards.

NOTE: It is understood that, for marketing purposes, a residential development may use such terms as single family attached dwelling to describe a single-family-type character and design of a project. However, for the purposes of determining allowable use and appropriate development standards, any attached dwelling shall be considered multifamily.

The utilization of Residential Design and Standard Design Manufactured Housing units shall be permitted within all residential land use districts that have allowed manufactured housing units as permitted uses under the previous Zoning Ordinance (No. 86-12).

- B. Institutional Uses. This type of use includes educational facilities (public or private), preschool and day care facilities (public or private), houses of worship, cemeteries without funeral homes, residential care facilities, halfway housing, nursing home facilities, and all other similar institutional uses.

- C. Recreational Uses. These uses include areas for outdoor recreational activities such as picnicking, jogging, cycling, arboretums, hiking, golf courses, play grounds, ball fields, outdoor ball courts, stables, outdoor swimming pools, and water related or water dependent uses such as boat ramps, fishing docks and piers, and all similar outdoor recreational uses, whether public or private.

Other recreational uses such as firing ranges, marinas, miniature golf courses, race tracks, and similar recreational or quasi-recreational activities may be allowable subject to PUD standards for developments of greater intensity than the designated predominant use or conditional use.

- D. Professional Service and Office Uses. This group of uses includes business and professional offices, medical offices or clinics, government offices, financial institutions without drive-up facilities, and personal service businesses where the service is performed on an individual-to-individual basis as opposed to services that are performed on objects or personal property. Examples of personal service businesses are barbershops, beauty shops, or photography studios. This group of uses may include a dispatching/communications/office center for the distribution of goods, but specifically excludes warehousing or actual distribution of goods.

- E. Neighborhood Commercial Uses. A wide variety of neighborhood commercial, service businesses, and related activities are included in this group of uses. Examples include the professional and office uses listed above as well as the following specific uses and all substantially similar types of uses.

 14. Convenience stores.
- F. General Commercial. The uses in this group include those activities that require outdoor storage, have higher trip generations than neighborhood commercial listed above, or have potential for greater nuisance effect on adjacent properties due to noise, light and glare, or typical hours of operation. This group of uses includes the following list of specific uses and all substantially similar activities based upon similarity of characteristics:

Government offices or government agency offices are specifically not included in this group of uses. Uses include the following substantially similar activities based upon similarity of characteristics:
